

Sinclair Broadcasting is using public bandwidth to show a politically biased "documentary" called Stolen Honor in a blatant attempt to alter the outcome of the Presidential election shortly after the planned airing. This is in violation of their obligation to serve the public interest rather than their own corporate self-interest, and it is a threat to democracy in this country. The FCC should seek to prevent abuses like this.